COVER NOTE

Our beautiful cover photograph this month, "A Time For Giving," was taken by Murle Ogden, outstanding Carmel photographer. We wish to thank Mr. Ogden for giving so freely of his time, talent and energy on so many different occasions to the pages of The Classmate.

We also wish to thank Holman's of Pacific Grove and City of Florence and Mediterranean Market of Carmel for assisting us with the excellent picture material. Our November cover would not have been possible without the generous aid of these local merchants.

THANK YOU

This is to express my deep appreciation to all the girls who so graciously gave of their time in assisting in any way with the Welcome Aboard teas last month.

I am very grateful to each and every one of you who helped make those occasions possible.

OFFICERS WIVES CLUB

Orpha Deffenbaugh, President

By Pat Palmquist

Dozens of smart fall fashions were modeled by members at the luncheon-business meeting of the Officers Wives Club on October 18, 1962.

Prior to the dramatic showing of the fall fashions, Eileen Horan, the president, opened the meeting by calling on the secretary, Peggy Fredrick, for the minutes. The treasurer's final report for her term was submitted by Tish Kaiser.

With the routine business completed, the tempo of the meeting increased with the forthcoming election for new club officers. Each candidate was presented to the membership. A short resume of previous experiences was read. This introduction assured the members that all the candidates have qualities of leadership and will work toward promoting many new interests. Following the election, the new officers were welcomed with a round of applause. Here briefly is a background sketch of each candidate:

Orpha Deffenbaugh, the newly elected president, can be described as capable, efficient, friendly, and enthusiastic. Orpha attended Notre Dame Convent and Butler University where she majored in journalism. Her first job was that of research writing and free lance work. She is considering writing a volume of essays some day, but confessed "now is not the time."

Our new president is a busy and versatile member. She is experienced in many civic affairs as well as having an impressive record with wives club work. Another tremendous experience in Orpha's life is her little theater work that she claims "was a lot of fun." She also feels this experience will be helpful when speaking before an audience.

Almost more excited than Orpha was her husband, LCDR R. M. Deffenbaugh, Section Leader of ROO2, and their three children.

With Orpha's enthusiasm and initiative we feel certain our club has the key to success.

Our new vice president, Marjorie Findley, is another outstanding personality among our newly elected officers. She attended Kansas State Teachers College where she met her husband, Lee B. Findley. Marj received a degree in elementary education and is now working toward a degree in French from MPC and claims she is determined to some day speak fluent French. While her husband was on a NATO staff and the family lived in Malta, she picked up a smattering of other languages and found this both stimulating and rewarding to her interest in languages.

Marj has always participated in wives club work and can look back on an impressive record.

Bobbi O'Connor is our new recording secretary. Poise and personality are among Bobbi's other important qualities. She is a graduate of Centenary College for Women and remembers those days as marvelous ones full of learning and fun. Bobbi participated actively in student organizations and held office for two terms as secretary and has handled many projects as chairman. She also hopes to become proficient in golf and bridge. She is currently in charge of the costuming for Kismet.

Travel fascinates Bobbi and she knows Navy life will bring many more opportunities for exciting travel and this is indeed her cup of tea.

The office of corresponding secretary was won by Carol Smith. Painting and design are Carol's hobbies, and she claims a little artistic talent has helped. She knows the Monterey Peninsula is a paradise for artists and hopes to further her study of art.

Carol is an experienced Registered Medical Secretary and a competent office manager, too. She was active in National Medical Assistance groups and believes this experience will help her do an effective job as corresponding secretary.

Carol and her husband are both football boosters and it's understandable when you hear that he was the captain of the '56 Mid-die team. They are looking forward to cheering Navy to victory over Southern California this fall.

Control of the Club's finances went to Ellen Winkle, our new treasurer. Ellen brought her successful career as a Medical Assistant to a halt for her marriage to Raymond Winkle. However, since marriage she has found time, in addition to maintaining a home for her husband and children, to develop an interest in club activities. She has served as chairman many times. Prior to her marriage she was instrumental in forming a hospital training program and organizing a Medical Assistants Society.

Bobbi O'Connor, Recording Secretary

Carol Smith, Corresponding Secretary

Ellen Winkle, Treasurer

While making her home in Hawaii, Ellen discovered the exotic Oriental cuisine and enjoys entertaining with a luau to be in the spirit of her cooking. Other interests that she finds time for are sewing, reading, bridge, and now a new interest, bookkeeping.

The next six months will prove to be very fruitful with the cooperation and support of all members. So let's all look forward to being at the November 15 meeting . . . the first meeting of their new term.

Mimi Cooper, our program chairman, arranged the annual fall fashion show through Terrace Fashions with Mickey Vaughn doing the commentary. The current trend in fashion was shown in day time costumes, fur trimmed suits, sportswear, and evening dress of elegance. The lucky members who modeled these Vogue costumes and accessories were Shirley Conaughton, Mimi Cooper, Marlene Paige, Bjorg Rein, Pat

Rosemary Fessler of Terrace Fashion's Marina Store and "Shadow"

Rowland, Jeff Short, Sara Jane Smith, Maude Underwood and Mary Zobel. Others who deserve bouquets for their efforts to help make this meeting an extraordinary event are Ann Elmore for her piano accompaniment, Silvia Davis for her exquisite presentation of two songs and Barbara Mahoney who helped the models make their graceful entrances.

To end the afternoon on a continuing pleasant note, door prizes were awarded. Mrs. W. W. Bemis won with excitement the beautiful knit suit from Terrace Fashions. Terry Denton was extremely pleased with her bonus, "Where Love Is," Mrs. Dornin's newly published cookbook. These lovely cookbooks are presently for sale through the club. They may also be obtained at The York Shop, 647 Cannery Row . . . the proceeds to benefit the York Episcopal School for Boys in Pacific Grove. Madeline Dyhold and Shirley Palmer each received one of the artistic fall floral arrangements from Mel-O-Dee Florist that decorated the tables.

The next meeting will be on November 15 in the Bali Room at 8 p.m. This meeting will feature craft instructions on Christmas decorations to make your holiday season more festive.

Father J. J. O'Connor

The Classmate extends a hearty Welcome Aboard to the new Catholic Chaplain, Father J. J. O'Connor. Father O'Connor comes from Philadelphia where he attended St. Charles College and received an M.A. in Advanced Ethics. He then earned an M.A. in Clinical Psychology at Villanova College and went on for his Ph.D. (cant.) in Philosophy at Georgetown Catholic University in Washington, D. C. He also attended the University of Delaware.

School life was evidently contagious for Father O'Connor; he went from a student to a teacher. He taught Philosophy, Psychology, English and French at various schools in Philadelphia.

Although he claims not to be a linguist, we are all very impressed with his proficiency in French, Italian, German, Greek, Hebrew and, of course, Latin.

The chaplain's Naval career, which began at the Naval Hospital in Philadelphia, included tours in Destroyer Force, Atlantic Fleet, the Potomac River Naval Command, Bureau of Naval Records in Washington, and the USS Canberra. He arrives at the Postgraduate School full of enthusiasm and with a keen awareness for his need here.

His first project, which will be a tremendous undertaking, is to call on each of the approximately 400 Catholic families attached to the Postgraduate School and the Naval Air

Father J. J. O'Connor

Facility. He is also in the process of forming a religious organization for the teenagers and a Chapel Guild for the adults. Father O'Connor's aim is to give the Navy family as much of a parish life as possible. An essential ingredient to the success of these plans is assistance from the laity.

—A. S.

The producers of Kismet would like to thank Jean Cote for his photo coverage of Kismet which appeared in the October issue of The Classmate.

*Mathematician, Scholar, TeacherProfessor Brooks Lockhart*Dean of Academic AdministrationProfessor Brooks Lockhart*

It is with great pride that The Classmate introduces Professor Brooks Lockhart, Dean of Academic Administration of the Naval Postgraduate School. Professor Lockhart was appointed to this four year position by ADM Dornin in 1962, when the position was created as a result of the school reorganization.

As Dean of Academic Administration, Professor Lockhart's duties include the supervising of class scheduling, recording of grades, preparation of transcripts and the editing of the school catalogue. He also serves as Secretary to the Academic Council.

A native of Sandyville, West Virginia, Professor Lockhart received his Bachelor of Science degree from Marshall University in Huntington, West Virginia. In 1940 he obtained his Master of Science degree from West Virginia University. He then attended the University of Illinois where he received his Ph.D. and taught as a graduate assistant. His first full time teaching position was that of instructor of mathematics at the University of Michigan.

While serving in the Navy he was one of several authors of The Manual of Operations for the Automatic Sequence Controlled Calculator and the first volumes of the Tables of Bessel Functions. These talented men were pioneers in the digital computer field. At this time he was associated with the Bureau of Ships at Harvard University.

Professor Lockhart taught mathematics at the Fire Control School in Washington, D. C. Following his Naval tour, he returned to the University of Michigan as an instructor.

It was in July of 1948 that Professor Lockhart became associated with the Postgraduate School . . . then at Annapolis. His teaching field has included students from the Bachelor of Science Curricula, Management, One-Year-Science, and most of the Engineering Curricula.

This dedicated mathematician introduced the first modern algebra courses to the Postgraduate School students. He was also instrumental in providing the opportunity for Science students to earn their degrees with majors in math. Professor Lockhart is pleased to announce the findings of a recent study which showed that in the past three years, 28 students have received Bachelor's degrees with majors in math, and six have earned their Master's degrees in math.

Four years ago the Professor was the chairman and is now the secretary of the Northern California Section of The Mathematical Association of America. It was with pride that he told us of originating an annual high school math contest sponsored by the association. This contest drew 11,000 participants from Hawaii, Nevada and Northern California in 1962. The 50 top students were awarded U. S. Savings Bonds, and the winning high school (from Palo Alto) was awarded a permanent trophy, large enough to dwarf all athletic awards!

Despite his busy schedule, Professor Lockhart finds time to participate actively in community projects. For the past nine years he has been connected with the Monterey City School Boards. He was elected Chairman of the Monterey Peninsula Junior College Board and also President of the Monterey County School Board Association. He is at present a member of the state-wide finance committee of the California School Board Association. This is his third year as a member of this committee. He also appeared on the program of the National School Board Association convention in St. Louis last May. The Professor takes deep pride in our Monterey School system, although he laughingly admits that it all began, "As just a member of an Elementary school P.T.A."

While attending the University of West Virginia he met Miss Elizabeth Counts who was to become Mrs. Lockhart. She is also a mathematician and holds a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in math.

The Lockharts have two children. Patricia received her math degree from the University of California at Davis this year and is now employed as a mathematician at Aero-Jet General in Sacramento.

Their son, Lynn, is presently a senior at Monterey High School. He also hopes to become a mathematician and follow a family tradition.

The Lockharts' beautiful home on Jacks Road, near the Del Monte Fairways, boasts of a one and a half acre garden which is cared for exclusively by Mrs. Lockhart.

It is without a doubt that Professor Lockhart . . . mathematician, scholar, teacher . . . is one of the greatest assets the Math Department of the Postgraduate School has ever had. His unequivocal ability and his desire to serve attest to the fact that he is a valuable resident of the Monterey Peninsula.

By Jean Anne Hartley and Ruth Schwarz

After a delightful afternoon chatting with Mrs. W. H. Craven, Jr., wife of the Commanding Officer of the Naval Air Facility, we realize how fortunate we are to have in our midst one who exemplifies a true Navy wife. With blue eyes, dark hair, and a natural charm, Catherine Craven has the "spirit of Christmas" in her entire manner.

It quickly becomes apparent that one of Mrs. Craven's greatest assets is her love of people. Interested in everything and everybody, she is fairly bursting with energy and enthusiasm. Those who are around her for any length of time will certainly absorb some of this enthusiasm.

Born in Greensboro, North Carolina, Mrs. Craven attended Duke University where she majored in psychology. While visiting friends in Pensacola, she met Bill Craven, a handsome naval aviator from Tennessee. CAPT Craven will have no excuse to forget their wedding anniversary as they were married in Pensacola on December 7, 1941.

Upon leaving Pensacola, Bill was ordered to the Pacific Theater at which time it was back to Greensboro for Catherine. She experienced first-hand the difficulties of war time travel during several cross-country trips to be with Bill on his infrequent trips to the States. Since the war, CAPT Craven's various duty stations have been Newport, Rhode Island, Norfolk, Washington, D. C., Hawaii, Coronado, back to Washington, and then to Monterey. With Mrs. Craven's effervescent personality it was no surprise to hear her say that she had loved each and every duty station.

Like most Navy wives Mrs. Craven was envious of her husband's overseas travels. Her opportunity to travel came during their tour in Hawaii at which time she spent an exciting three-month tour in the Far East. After a hectic two-days' notice (shots, visas, red tape, etc.) she sailed to Manila. From Manila she flew to Singapore, Bangkok, and Hong Kong. Needless to say she found the shopping in Hong Kong fabulous! She discovered that the co-pilot of the commercial plans had been through flight training with CAPT Craven, proving once again the old adage "it's a small world." Two days after returning to Hawaii the Cravens were on their way to Coronado where CAPT Craven reported for duty aboard the USS Yorktown.

Mrs. Craven is fascinated with the Monterey Peninsula and is thoroughly enjoying their tour. She has found Monterey the perfect place to pursue her love of gardening and the outdoors. Among her many interests she is active in the Monterey Symphony Guild of which she is a board member.

Having given of herself freely to Navy Relief activities for many years, she has recently accepted the position of Chairman of the volunteer workers for Navy Relief. Mrs. Craven is enthusiastic with the response by the wives of the Naval Air Facility and the Postgraduate School. She is also most appreciative for the interest shown in this project by some of the wives of the foreign students.

CAPT and Mrs. Craven have three lovely daughters, Caroline, a junior at the State College of Iowa; Anne, a sophomore at Monterey Peninsula College, and Tracy, an eighth grader at Walter Colton. Their household also includes two Siamese kittens and a miniature poodle named "Beau."

To an attractive and gracious lady, may we say it is a pleasure to have you with us and invoke on you an old Indian blessing "May an arrow's flight be all your sorrows, and a turtle's crawl all your happy moments."

James Brant Shuman . . . born September 13

ONE YEAR SCIENCE

The Outrigger on Cannery Row was chosen for our first section party on September 28. Cocktails, buffet dinner, and dancing provided a pleasant relief from studies.

Our October luncheon was held at The Ginza where we enjoyed the Japanese cuisine. Hostesses were Barbara Church and Chris Elder.

Congratulations to Sue and Ned Shuman on their new son, James Brant, born at Fort Ord Hospital on September 13. "Vital statistics"—7 pounds, 11 ounces, 21 inches. "Welcome Aboard" to SAA2a's new arrival.

Nell and "Swannie" Swanson hosted the section at their home in La Mesa Village on October 1 for our first section party. It was a huge success, and we are looking forward to more of the same. Many thanks to Nell and "Swannie" for a tremendous evening.

Our monthly luncheon was held at Cerito's Neptune's Table. The delightful view and tempting menu made it a very enjoyable afternoon for all. Thanks to our hostesses, Marge Carson and Nell Swanson for a wonderful choice for our second luncheon.

NEW TAX DEDUCTIONS . . .

An August arrival in Haiti was Joelle, the first child of CDR and Mrs. Gaston Man-gones, GMB-2.

Raymond Thall, Jr., was born August 21 to Hilda and Raymond, DAB-2.

Jane Ann was a most welcome September addition to the household of John and Barbara Anthony, DAB-1.

Joseph Christopher, born September 11, is the second son and fourth child of Steve and Maureen McArdle, DAB-1.

Aaron Carl Gaddis was born September 18 to Carl and Darlene, CAB-1.

Thomas Michael, third son of Tom and Susan Golder, was born September 19. He was baptized by Father John O'Connor October 14 at the USNPGS Chapel after which a christening party was held by the Golders for DAA-2ers to meet the new arrival.

VISITORS WITHOUT CEASING . . .

Eileen and Bob Combs (CMB-1) recently hosted relatives from Denver, Colorado: Miss Helen Cuba, Eileen's sister, and Phillip Ebell, Bob's uncle.

DAA-1: LCDR and Mrs. Donald Hornbeck, Long Beach, visited Betty and Clyde Summitt. Mrs. Louis Baars and daughter Karen, Sreator, Illinois, were houseguests of Loretta and Mel Klein. LCDR and Mrs. Jim Burden, Mountain View, visited Joan and John Brannon. Mrs. Burden is Joan's identical twin and the resemblance is astonishing!

The Bill Barkers of GMB-2 have been holding open house, for visitors that is! They were: Fern's parents, the S. R. Sniders, Glencoe, Illinois, and her brother and family, the D. J. Whitnells, Buena Park; Bill's mother, Mrs. F. H. Barker, Pompano Beach, Florida, and his aunt, Miss Anna Pistorius, Evanston, Illinois; LT and Mrs. C. J. Morissette, former squadron-mates from Pensacola.

CAB-2: Weekend guests of the Lee Pritschers were CDR and Mrs. Charles Boldt and children from the Bay Area. Mrs. Della Howell, Jacksonville, Florida, is spending two months with her daughter, Mrs. George Lyne. A steady stream of guests have dropped in at the Edward Halletts' Pebble Beach home: Dr. and Mrs. W. Y. Hallett (a cousin) and family on their way from the

World's Fair to Claremont; the Lewis Fry family and Dolores' mother, Mrs. O. K. Roeckel, San Diego; Royal Canadian Navy LT and Mrs. John Turner and family from Nova Scotia, Canada, en route to British Columbia. The Halletts and Turners were neighbors in Shearwater near Halifax when LCDR Hallett was on exchange duty with the Royal Canadian Navy.

CONGRATULATIONS . . .

LCDR John Burley gave the traditional "wetting down" party in the Trident Room for DMA-2 men celebrating his recent promotion.

Joe Gilmore, CMB-1, and Gwen Ring, Carmel, have announced their engagement. Gwen, a pretty Irish colleen, has lived in the USA only four years.

WORTHY OF MENTION . . .

Harry Benson and Randolph Ford of CAC-2 attended the Society of Experimental Test Pilots Symposium in September at Los Angeles. COL John Glenn was guest speaker at the luncheon.

Roger and Nancy Harris had a great time in San Francisco watching the Stanford-Oregon State football game. Roger's younger brother Jeff plays on the Oregon team.

DAA-1 wives attended the Adobe Tour sponsored by the Monterey Historical Society on September 29.

Newly-arrived CAB-2 wives sewed and completed 25 articles for Navy Relief in September.

GLINTS OF HAPPY HOURS . . .

DAB-1 went Hawaiian at their luau at NAF. Milt Jines emceed, Barry Matthews entertained disguised as Helo Hattie, and CDR Biadiaz won a well-dressed coconut for being the best-dressed tourist.

Highlight of DAB-2's party at NAF was the presentation of the "Navel Quartet" with Denny Bisek, Bob Foltz, Glenn Gaddis and John Gilbertson as the "stars."

METEOROLOGY AND OCEANOGRAPHY

The wives of Meteorology and Oceanography sections got under way with many lovely get acquainted coffees, luncheons and cocktail parties. Mrs. Steuckert, wife of our Curricular Officer, gave a delightful coffee at her home for all the sections combined. At all the coffees the tables were laden with delicious sweets and all diets thrown to the wind, but many new friendships were enjoyed by all.

Professor and Mrs. Frey entertained some of our sections at a cocktail party given at their lovely home in Del Monte Forest. The view was outstanding as were our gracious host and hostess. One of the highlights of MMM2 cocktail party was a clever baseball skit put on by a few of the men. MAA2 also had a grand time at a luau dinner and cocktail party.

Donna Englehart and Florence Stone were honored by the wives of MAA1 with a baby shower given at the Carmel home of Ruth Penney. LCDR and Mrs. Penney were recently visited by COL and Mrs. Howard Penney and their daughter Sherry, on their way to Saigon, South Viet Nam. Their news from the war torn country was shared with the group.

Many of our wives are taking advantage of free babysitting offered by studious husbands by taking trips to Los Angeles and San Diego. Among them going to L.A. were Joan Ellsworth, Fran Harrison and Pauline Dilweg of MOA2. They brought back many wonderful tales of the Farmers Market and some fantastic kingdom called Disneyland. Joan Rosenberg of MMM2 managed to slip to San Diego between her art classes in Carmel.

The babysitters needn't feel left out however as they got together for a Golf Tournament played at the lovely Corral de Tierra Country Club. A good time was had by all as anyone could tell by the scores received.

It's not all play and no work, however, as the wives of MOC2 are busy helping Bobbi O'Connor make costumes for Kismet. Bobbi will also be running for recording secretary in the coming election and we all want to wish her the best of luck.

The "Medal of Bravery" must go to Bob Alden of MMM2 for letting his wife Marian take their new Austin Healey out the first day without a complete check-off list.

And if any of you should see Dora Chin, be sure to ask her the story of her new dryer.

Section party at the Dick Sengs

September proved a popular month for parties. Section WGG2a's dinner party at the Presidio on the 15th was enjoyed by all. Party committeemen for this event were Ray Bennett, Don Martin, "Scotty" Scott and Bruce Fleming.

A cocktail party on the 29th got WGG2ds together. Chairman for this event was John McClaren. Everyone enjoyed meeting John's father, COL H. E. McClaren, U.S.A., who had just flown in that day from Hawaii.

Fitz and Joyce Fitzsimmons hosted a very enjoyable evening at the School Club for Section RZZ2a, September 28. Bob Schatz won the door prize, a lovely (?) green, crawly, slimy chameleon! The big event of the evening was the celebration of Ken and Nancy Cumblidge's fifth wedding anniversary. Ken surprised his wife with a cake. Smart hubby!

The George Meinigs broke up the study grind for Section WGG2c with parties Saturday the 22nd and 29th, half the section attending each.

Visitors to the Peninsula: Mr. Joseph Sopia, en route from Hartford, Conn. to Hawaii, stopping at the Hank Jordans. Mrs. Ingraham and daughter, Connie of Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, stopped to visit the Lowell Holloways after taking in the World's Fair. After an extensive tour of the States, Sally Tudor of Sussex, England has come to visit her sister and brother-in-law, Ann and Ron Rau. Kathy Cook of Washington, D. C., seen off by her sister Mary Ann Williams after a pleasant month's visit. Frank Woods' mother, Mrs. L. M. Watson, is now with Andree and Frank.

WNN-2 gal, Judy Goodman, just returned from a trip to San Diego where she was a bridesmaid in the wedding of a close friend and also visited her parents.

The stork made quite a few visits in September. Delivered to the Charles A. Gertners a son, Charles A. Gertner III. Roger M. Nutting, Jr. has a new brother, David Charles. Both proud pops are in Section WGG2c. Martha and Hal Eddleman, Section WGG2b, welcomed a daughter, Katherine Breaux, September 11, and on September 20, Cliff and Nan Church, Section WNN-2, became the proud parents of their third son, Michael Stuart. Congratulations! WELCOME ABOARD!

The Hidden Village was a popular spot for section coffees this month. Sam Jordan and Bobbie Brown were hostesses for WGG2cs meeting there, and Sara Crandall, Grace Godefroy and Barbara Greer did the honors for WGG2ds. All enjoyed the exotic and delicious coffees and pastries and the Village's art gallery. Knees still stiff, girls?

Jackie Bower was elected treasurer at the September gathering of RZZ2b wives at the La Mesa home of Mary Lou Eager. Plans were made for a party to celebrate the end of the first quarter. Rose Marie and Paul Goncz have volunteered their house at Fort Ord for the festivities.

Tuesday night, October 2, Betty Newcomb hosted a RZZ2a section coffee with Margie Cantrell as co-hostess. A joint coffee is planned in November for sections RZZ2a and RZZ2b.

The La Playa Restaurant in Carmel was the picturesque setting for the October 4 luncheon of WGG2a wives. Hostesses were Carol Walker and May Williams.

Seven girls in Section WGG2c get together and sew each week. Marge Pittenger is the talented gal who helps the beginners become creative with sewing machine and scissors!

Taking advantage of the break between quarters, Ron and Dot Propper enjoyed a weekend in San Francisco. While there they were able to see Ron's ex-shipmates on the USS Ronquil up from San Diego.

Everyone enjoyed the weekend break between terms. It was a real babysitter's bonanza!!!

Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Anderson and Charlotte Maas at a September coffee for new Operations Analysis wives

"Arigato" to Pat Trimble for selecting The Ginza for Section MNAB2a wives' first monthly luncheon. They found most delightful the custom of leaving their shoes outside the door!

Recent visitors have been Mr. and Mrs. Claude McKinney of Roslyn Heights, New York, houseguests of Wilma and Danny Clements. Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rice of San Antonio, Texas, parents of Sharon Howard, have spent three weeks visiting Sharon and Charlie. Mr. Rice fell in love with the Monterey Bay fishing; ended up catching at least 100 pounds of Rock Cod.

While their husbands studied hard and "babysat," the wives of MNAB2b enjoyed luncheon at Neil De Vaughn's September 26, co-hosted by Audrey Denkler and Bonnie McQuiston. Door prizes were won by Woodie Sharpe and Linda Barry.

"Studying wives" of the section, Eleanor Henriques, Dottie Olin and Marty Olds are taking a night course at MUHS in Audio-Visual Education. Dottie is also taking a course in Russian.

Highlighting a MNAB2c section party on September 15 at the home of CDR and Mrs.

Charles Surran, was a hilarious Hawaiian skit presented by Art Edsall, and Andy and Bailey Owens. Guests of the evening were CAPT and Mrs. H. H. Anderson and LCDR and Mrs. W. E. Marquardt.

In September a "dessert coffee" was held at the home of Terry Schnitzer. Co-hostess was Olabelle Gouldman. The door prize, a lovely planter, was won by Martha Cotton.

The distaff side of MNAB2d has gathered twice for luncheons. The first was held September 10 at Neptune's Table overlooking the bay. Hostesses were Joy Adams and Pat Bodensteiner. On October 1 they went Oriental, sitting on the floor and trying chopsticks at The Ginza. Hostesses were Wendy Dorsky and Betty Buck.

The newest arrival in the section is Miss Dana Howland, daughter of MAJ and Mrs. Wayne Howland, born September 1 at Fort Ord Hospital.

The bridge group plans to play on the second Wednesday of each month. Marty Rowland is the hostess for October.

Section ROO1 wives met for luncheon October 9 at the Pine Inn in Carmel; hostesses were Mary Ellen Connolly and Marilyn Clark.

A coffee was given for Section ROO2a wives at the Hidden Village by Mrs. Robert H. Bartley and Mrs. William E. Buck on October 4.

LT and Mrs. R. H. Bartley entertained his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Bartley from Seymour, Texas for a week in mid-September. Also the newly married D. O. Bartleys (Bob's brother and bride) were visiting from Lubbock, Texas.

Robert Michael McCaffery joined the family of L Tand Mrs. Robert A. McCaffery on September 14. He weighed 8 pounds and 7 ounces.

LT and Mrs. James H. Foresman III have a new addition to their family. David Lee was born September 28 and weighed 9 pounds and 1 ounce. LT Foresman's mother, Mrs. Alice Foresman from Scooba, Mississippi has come to be with the family and help with the new arrival.

For the October meeting of Section ROO2b Mrs. Paul Bornstein and Mrs. Curtis Anderson chose The Hidden Village with its quiet atmosphere. Exotic coffees, teas, and chocolates, plus light desserts were offered on the menu and explained and served by the Village's hostess.

LCDR and Mrs. Jackson Hill, who have six daughters, were recently visited by LT and Mrs. Jack Clark, and their seven children, who were on their way from San Diego to Mare Island. These families have been close friends for some time, so it seemed only natural for Mrs. Hill to whip up spaghetti to feed 17 people and later to figure out a way for all heads to sleep. With such hospitality there was much hectic gaiety.

Mrs. Joseph Metcalf recently jetted east to be matron of honor in the October 6 afternoon wedding of a close childhood friend, Miss Margaret A. Towne of Holyoke, Mass.

William and Michael Klorig are happy to announce the arrival of their new baby sister, Linda Theresa, born September 14 at Fort Ord and weighing 8 lbs. 6 oz. What wowed parents Bill and Danielle Klorig? Linda came equipped with one lower tooth! It was at a coffee for the section wives that Danielle was presented with a silver spoon. Margo Blair and Carole Blanchard were hostesses at this get-better-acquainted coffee.

Visitors came from far and near; to cheer our hearts; exchange their tales; to tempt our husbands from studying. Nancy and Ken Glaser hosted her delightful parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Emmons from San Diego. Carole Sibley's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wilson, visited from Garden Grove, California. And from distant Muswell Hill, London, England, flew Hermoine's mother, Mrs. Patricia MacVicar, to stay with Tom and Hermoine Seigenthaler for several months.

Nancy Glaser (script girl) and Carole

Ann Albero (dancer) will reap the benefits of their long dedicated hours soon. So will we, when we watch the Kismet performance on November 2.

Theater nights are in the air! What fun we had hissing and cheering till our throats were dry at California's First Theatre when the section gathered there on October 12.

NGG2b-ers had a delightful family picnic on September 15 at Saddle Mountain Ranch in Carmel Valley. The children discovered the playground and swimming pool at once and several managed to talk their parents into going for a swim. All of us enjoyed the abundance of good food and games thought up by our hostesses, Carol Goto, Martha Giese and Sue Creager.

Hidden Village was the setting on September 27 for our section coffee given by Marion Struven, Marna Yockey, and Bunny Schmidt. The exotic desserts and beverages, combined with the Oriental atmosphere all contributed to a very pleasant evening.

Carol Goto was delighted with a two day visit from her father, Mr. Shozo Fujii, who was here from Japan on a business trip. Martha Giese also was hostess recently to three guests from Baltimore, Maryland: the Rev. James C. Donohue, Elizabeth Dougherty, and Suzanne Sullivan. Miss Dougherty will be continuing her trip west by going on to Hawaii.

A "Happy Thanksgiving" to all and we'll see you next month!

ELECTRONICS AND COMMUNICATIONS

The bridge group gathered at the La Mesa home of Helen Spaulding on September 17. After the game the ladies enjoyed refreshments while plans for attending the forthcoming "Kismet" were discussed. The section is proud to have two participating members in the production, LT and Mrs. Ralph Spaulding.

Barbara Wiley and Barbara Hawthorne were the hostesses for the September meeting and came up with a very interesting evening of bowling at NAF.

The section enjoyed a rousing good time at a "cook your own steak" party hosted by Cathy and B. Q. Ryan, Helen and Ralph Spaulding and Rusty and Bill Shaver. It was held in the Copper Cup Room with dancing later in the Bali Room.

She weighed 5 lbs. 10½ oz. Congratulations also go to Barbara and Howard Venezia whose son James Howard was born October 7 weighing in at 6 lbs. 6 oz. A hearty welcome aboard to the new arrivals.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Cragen of New York were the recent houseguests of their daughter and son-in-law, Anne and Jim Connerton. With them was Anne's grandmother, Mrs. Henry L. Cragen. Barbara and John Jerome are having a pleasant two weeks visit with Barbara's mother and aunt, Mrs. J. A. Suit and Miss Margaret I. Suit, from Annapolis, Maryland.

The Trident Room was the scene of the first party for Section EBB-2b. John and Sue Kropf, our Section Leader and his wife, welcomed aboard the new members. Co-hostesses Teeny Bond and Doris Lyons did a wonderful job of helping to make the evening a great success.

As the slide rules began to hum, the wives had their first night affair at Millie Axell's home in Carmel. Plans were made at this meeting for bridge, a monthly get-together, and occasional night events when husbands were away from the books. Liz Bradley accepted the responsibility of being Sunshine Chairman.

Mary Cole, Doris Lyons, and Margie Telfer were hostesses for our September coffee held at Doris Lyons' home in Seaside.

Many of our wives are busily pursuing language studies at Monterey Peninsula College. Doris Lyons is taking Russian, while Teeny Bond is asking "Parlez-vous, le Français?" Mary Cole, Linda Gamboa, Margie Telfer and Nancy Kellerman are engrossed in Spanish. We are all keeping our fingers crossed for foreign duty in the near future. Until next month—Adios Amigos!

The stork was very busy giving "special delivery service" to our section during the month of September. New to the scene were: Daniel Martin, 8 lb. 2 oz., born September 6 to the Arthur Sutorus'; arriving September 26 was Margaret Ann, 6 lb. 9 oz., at the John S. Smith household; and Elizabeth Sloan, 5 lb. 7 oz., was the tiny package delivered to the John Chandliss' on September 30.

A delightful surprise shower was given on August 29 for the wives who were then ladies-in-waiting. Hostesses for the evening were June Johnson and Jan Gantt. Jan was doubly surprised to find that her name had been added to the guest-of-honor list, which also included: Coleman Chandliss, Barbara Smith and Alice Sutorus. The theme followed an old world fable that babies are found under cabbage leaves. Decorations centering around this theme included—you guessed it—a cleverly devised green cabbage with tiny dolls peeking out from under the leaves.

Once again, the stork has made a call on one of our families. Our heartiest congratulations to Jose and Clara Guerola on the birth of their daughter, Mariella Clara, on September 27. The Guerola's "older" daughter, Libaua, celebrated her first birthday on September 15 with a lovely party at which many of our children were present.

We were happy to have Pat Milligan with us at our monthly get together on October 5 at Isabel Buxcey's in Carmel.

As the term draws to a close, all of us are looking forward to the "free weekend" ahead. Anticipation fills the air as we plan everything from a lazy picnic to a glamorous evening in San Francisco. Eleanor and Ken Youngman will welcome to La Mesa Village Dave and Maureen McMasters who will make the big move that weekend. A week later but none the less a refreshing change from academic life, Pete and Pat Dillingham will attend the superlative Bolshoi Ballet.

On September 8 an informal party at the home of John and Nancy Rogers served as a delightful "get acquainted" party for Section ABA2.

A stroll through the art gallery and a sampling of exotic coffee was on the agenda for the section wives as they met at The Hidden Village for an evening coffee. Co-hostesses for the October 10 event were Mary Cone and Mary Cundari.

A friendly social in the form of a buffet dinner took place on September 13 as Section ACA2 gathered at the Seaside home of Nelma and Jim Anderson. The highlight of the enjoyable evening was when Shirley and Dick Fidler were surprised with a cake, made by Eva Hostetler, in honor of the couple's fifth wedding anniversary.

The Ginza was the setting of a lovely luncheon where the wives met for a monthly section meeting October 8. Anita Casey and Carol Dennis were sponsors. It was decided that the section will attend the October 27 performance of "Kismet" and afterwards gather at one of the local night spots.

Section bridge parties are very popular. Sally Finneran, Mary Helen Melvin and Barbara James have been hostesses. We look forward to bridge twice a month with Anita Casey as our next hostess.

FLEET NUMERICAL WEATHER FACILITY

Congratulations to LCDR Hesse on his selection for promotion to Commander.

Gathered for a luncheon at the NAF O Club on September 19 were the Fleet Numerical Weather Facility and Naval Air Facility Officers Wives. It was agreed that this group would continue to meet on the third Wednesday of each month. The ladies were most enjoyably entertained with a selection of songs from "Kismet," the forthcoming stage production of the Little Theater Group of the NPGS.

Congratulations are in order for Ed and Becky Melton on their new son, Edward III, who arrived on September 20.

October finds Mary Kalinyak and young son Paul Jr. back East visiting relatives and friends. Mary will be back writing this column come December.

A Sunday Drive - DOWN THE OLD COAST ROUTE

By George Shea

The fog slowly drifting inland from the coast. This is only a small section of the rugged but picturesque terrain. Notice the "Once upon a time" ranch house. There are still a few active ranches along the route.

This picture is only a fraction of the old and rustic feeling achieved when traveling on the "Old Coast Route" just off Highway 1. The road, dirt but fairly well graded, turns left just before you cross Bixby bridge going south. It winds its way back into the hills with a river for a few miles, and then climbs to the top of a coastal ridge which overlooks the ocean. For the next five or six miles there is a wonderful view of the rocky coast and the distant surf.

THE WEAVER

My life is but a weaving
Between my Lord and me . . .
I may not choose the colors;
He knows what they should be.

For He can view the pattern
Upon the upper side,
While I can see it only
On this, the under side.

Sometimes He weaveth sorrow,
Which seemeth strange to me;
But I will trust His judgment
And work on faithfully.

'Tis He who fills the shuttle;
He knows just what is best;
So I shall weave in earnest
And leave with Him the rest.

Not until the loom is silent
And the shuttles cease to fly,
Shall God unroll the canvas,
And explain the reason why
The dark threads are as needful,
In the weaver's skillful hand,
As the threads of gold and silver
In the pattern He has planned.

"A World of Fabulous Fabrics"

As you enter this world of fabulous fabrics you will see dazzling colors . . . breathtakingly beautiful pure silk brocades, wools, cottons, silks and synthetics in overwhelming abundance, imports from all around the world. Here you will find an array of fine materials from the looms of Stetson, Cloth of Gold, Belding, Corticelli, Pyramid Silks, and many, many others. Many of the beautiful costume materials and trim used in "Kismet" came from this treasure trove of fabrics dear to any woman's heart. Their lovely artificial flowers are soft and gossamer. Here also are the sought-after handbag and hat frames in the latest styles. Fashion Fabrics also boasts a collection of felt larger than any to be found from San Francisco to Los Angeles. In short, all your sewing needs will be met at Fashion Fabrics . . . everything from patterns, material, thread, and over 400 types of trimmings.

The warm and gracious owners of Fashion Fabrics, CDR and Mrs. Lee G. Mills, USN (Ret.) have been residents of the Peninsula for many years. CDR Mills came here as a student in 1951, and returned to teach in 1955. Although they planned to travel extensively after his retirement in 1960, they happily admit, "This is as far as we got."

The Mills' only recently purchased the shop, but have made several changes and are planning many more things to help solve your sewing problems. In the back room they plan to install a table where you can lay out your material and receive help on any problem. All the sales personnel at Fashion Fabrics must have a sewing background, and any one of these friendly ladies will be able to assist you. In tried and true Navy fashion the coffee pot in the back room is hot all the time.

Mrs. Mills had spent all her leisure hours at a sewing machine and is a very fine seamstress.

CDR Mills decided to turn his wife's creativity into a happy repast and purchased the store for her. She is infinitely happy in her new surroundings.

CDR Mills also has many outside interests. He is the Vice-President of AllNav Inc., Real Estate Investment and Development Company in Seaside, and President of Interservice Fund Inc. They also sponsor a bowling team of Postgraduate School personnel . . . Fashion Fabrics in the Merchant's "B" League.

CDR and Mrs. Lee G. Mills

When asked why he retired, CDR Mills' response was, "While instructing at the Postgraduate School from 1955 to 1960 I started seeing Lieutenant Commanders who were born after I came into the Navy. The Ensigns whom I knew back in the thirties were now the Admirals. I knew I had been around long enough." Retirement has not dulled their spirit or enthusiasm. This couple clearly epitomizes the small businessmen all over the Peninsula. May we add our "Best wishes in your new role in the community."

—J. W.

Traditionally the last weekend in September is homecoming at the Naval Academy. The USNA Class of 57 in the Monterey area being unable to attend decided to celebrate homecoming at the Officers Club at school. The evening began with cocktails in the Trident Room then moved on to the Bali Room to enjoy the delicious German night buffet.

At the September wives luncheon the new president, Di Cook and Vice-President, Jan McCullough were introduced. The next luncheon will be held on November 8. Plans are being completed for a Christmas dinner dance to be held December 22 at the PG School.

ONE DAY AT A TIME

There are two days in every week about which we should not worry . . .

Two days which should be kept free from fear and apprehension.

One of these days is yesterday, with its mistakes and cares, its faults and blunders, its aches and pains. Yesterday has passed forever beyond our control. All the money in the world cannot bring back yesterday. We cannot undo a single act we performed. We cannot erase a single word said. Yesterday is gone!

The other day we should not worry about is tomorrow, with its possible adversities, its burdens, its large promise and poor performance. Tomorrow is beyond our immediate control. Tomorrow's sun will rise, whether in splendor or behind a mask of clouds. But it will rise. Until it does we have no stake in tomorrow, for it is yet unborn.

This leaves only one day . . . today. Any man can fight the battles of just one day. It is when you and I add the burdens of two awful eternities—yesterday and tomorrow, that we break down.

It is not necessarily the experiences of today that disturb one's peace of mind. It is oftentimes the remorse or bitterness for something which happened yesterday and the dread of what tomorrow may bring.

Let us therefore live one day at a time.

LEONARDO DA VINCI EXHIBIT
AT MPC
Leonardo da Vinci as the most prolific inventor the world has ever known, as exemplified by models made from his scientific drawings, will be the subject of an exhibit at Monterey Peninsula College November 9 to 30.

The exhibit of models will be open to the public in the library lecture hall on campus from 1 to 9 p.m. week days and 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. There will be no admission charge.

Sponsored by the Department of Arts and Sciences, International Business Machines Corporation, the touring show will be brought to MPC from Stanford University, where it will have been on display for several weeks.

The models were constructed by a foremost Leonardo authority, Dr. Roberto Guatelli, after years of study and research. They were originally built under Dr. Guatelli's supervision for the 1938 exhibition of Leonardo's works in Milan, Italy. During the war, in Tokyo, they were completely destroyed by bombs, and Dr. Guatelli, who had accompanied them to Japan, was confined in a concentration camp. When he returned to the United States he began work on another set of models—the models which IBM acquired in 1951 and will be showing at MPC.

In conjunction with the exhibit, showings of a film on Leonardo's life and works, "The Tragic Pursuit of Perfection," have been planned for November 9, 16 and 28, 7 p.m. in the MPC Little Theater.

By means of his works, this half-hour film attempts to illustrate and interpret the remarkable grandeur and frustration of Leonardo da Vinci's quest for perfection. Director Enrico Fulchignoni probes the secret springs of Leonardo's extraordinary duality, his frenzy for life, his disenchantment, his failures and his greatness.

graduate School; Mrs. Merle F. Bowman, their lovely hostess; Mrs. John Horan, President of the Officers Wives Club of the Naval Postgraduate School, and Mrs. Robert Whittaker, Chairman of the International Committee.

At the Silver Tea Service, the accent was international and the ladies joined in conversation with the wives of American students as they received tea poured by the Mesdames Aristomenia Kelaidis of Greece, Torolf Rein of Norway, Gustavo Jarrin and Jamie Rodriguez of Ecuador, Silvio Sanchez of Venezuela, Haliti Burga of Turkey, Sven Nelson and John Baals of the United States.

The bronze, gold and green shades of the fall season were displayed in a centerpiece of chrysanthemums arranged by Mrs. Stuart Templeton. Delicate petit-fours, small sandwiches and assorted cookies were also enjoyed by the guests. Corsage name tags in the flowers of autumn were presented to each honored guest by Mrs. James Evans.

Preparations by the members of the Hospitality Committee of the Wives Club and members of the International Committee provided guests and honored guests with the memory of a wonderful afternoon.

AN URGENT NEED— A NOBLE CAUSE

Rear Admiral LAMONT PUGH, USN, Retired
(Surgeon General of the Navy—1951-1955)

THE validity of the observation that the highway to success is crowded with women pushing men cannot be gainsaid. Women are formidable enough when they push as individuals but when they become organized their power is enormous.

The wives of Navy and Marine Corps officers are presently organized under a charter and with pertinent by-laws and are dedicated to the attainment of a most worthy objective—the construction of a residence primarily for widows of Navy and Marine Corps officers. It may ultimately consider accommodating a certain number of aging retired officers and their wives.

Under the impetus generated by and emanating from the Washington, D. C. NOW Club, a Navy-Marine Residence Foundation Incorporated has been established with Vice Admiral William M. Callaghan, USN, Retired, as President of its Board of 9 Trustees—among which are included a retired Lieutenant General (aviator) of the Marine Corps and 2 members of the D. C. NOW Club. This voluntary foundation is operating under a bona fide charter and duly drafted by-laws. All of the legal technicalities inherent in such a project are being ably handled by a trustee who is an attorney.

There are in excess of 200 NOW Clubs widely distributed about the world with a membership reaching into the thousands and, with their number and power being augmented by the also widely distributed U. S. Marine Corps Officers' Wives Clubs, their combined force becomes patently potent.

The desperate need for such a residence as that proposed is inescapable to anyone aware of the facts. An Army Distaff Hall is presently under construction on Nebraska Avenue in the Nation's Capital. A recent survey has revealed that the number of widows of Regular and Reserve Naval Officers who had served on active duty for 20 years or more was approximately 3800 and there were 750 widows of Marine Corps Officers who had served for a like period. 500 Navy and 200 of these Marine Corps widows reside in the Washington, D. C. area. A majority of these widows are living on a woefully inadequate income. Social Security benefits, at best, are—in the face of present day cost of living—of only meager assistance. Few realize that the widow of a man dead of a non-service-connected disability after he had retired, receives no pension at all, unless her income is below $1,400 a year and then the amount of her pension is $50.40 a month—a pitiful pittance, indeed. The pay of Navy and Marine Corps Officers has never been sufficient to permit them to carry life insurance for their next of kin in amounts comparable with that of their counterparts in civilian pursuits. Eight hundred is regarded as the potential number of eligibles who would probably desire residence in the establishment in prospect.

Money has now become the item of major importance. A sum of $80,000 is the first desideratum. This, it is believed, can be raised by Navy and Marine Corps wives through their Wives' Clubs. When the raising of this so-called "seed" money has been accomplished, the Foundation will, through a worldwide financial campaign, undertake to provide approximately $600,000 to start a $4,000,000 building. The acquisition of one of several desirable building sites will be realized in due course—possibly as an outright gift but at least, it is hoped, at a price that is not exorbitant.

This is a monumental undertaking. It is obvious that a great deal of money will be essential to the success of this exceedingly worthy endeavor; but the harder the fight, the more glorious will be the triumph—and triumph there will ultimately be, because of the justness of the cause. The financial support of every officer in the Navy and Marine Corps, both active and retired, and all of the many friends of these two service branches—either as individuals or as organizations, such as the Navy League, will be sorely needed, earnestly solicited and everlastingly appreciated.

The Navy and Marine Corps by no means belong solely—or even principally—to those who wear or have worn the uniform, their wives and families. These nonpareil defenders of the flag belong to the Nation and it devolves upon and behooves all of the citizens of this Nation to hold fast and care well for the interest of those who in yesteryear gave their everything in the performance of their duty, and whose wives not only pushed hard and suffered much during many dark and agonizing hours when they humbly prayed and who today, whatever the answer to their prayers, bravely and proudly—and often painfully—carry on.

It is now the hope and prayer of us all that a blessed wind in the form of a bountiful and sustained flow of dollars will swell the sails and drive this craft along its course of mercy to its noble destination.

POINT LOBOS

By Lois Hulson

Located on Highway 1 just three miles south of Carmel is a unique 355 acre area called Point Lobos Reserve State Park. Often referred to as "the greatest meeting of land and water in the world." For only 50 cents per car one may spend a few hours or a whole day enjoying the spectacular views offered in this natural outdoor museum. Picnicking is provided in specified areas although fires are not permitted.

One may remain in his car and drive through the park, but to get the most out of your day, park your car in one of the many parking areas and walk along the trails.

Here you will find clinging to the cliffs one of the few remaining groves of the eerie Monterey Cypress. Offshore are the rock formations of Sea Lion Rock and Bird Island which inhabit sea-lions and shore and water birds. There are numerous coves; rolling meadows enhanced in the spring through fall with wild flowers; startling pinnacles with huge waves breaking against them. Travel on to the churning waters of Devil's Cauldron, along the tiny beaches to the fabulous Gibson Beach, truly a wonder in itself.

Point Lobos has been famous as a whaler's refuge, smuggler's haven and ship's graveyard. There are still remains of this colorful past throughout this vast museum.

During your stay here on the Monterey Peninsula, do make Point Lobos one of your scenic tours.

COLLECTORS PLEASE NOTE

If any group from the Naval Postgraduate School or the Naval Air Facility is interested in organizing a Stamp, Coin, or Rock Collectors Club, on a 12th Naval District basis, please contact Mr. Taylor in the Recreation Department.

ACTIVITIES By Meldarene Begley

BADMINTON

Alameda Naval Air Station will be host for the 12th Naval District Badminton Championship playoff (Waves Division). All Naval personnel are invited to take part.

The events of the Waves Division will take place on November 20 and 21, starting at 1830.

The men's events will take place at Treasure Island on November 26 and 27, also to begin at 1830.

There will be a maximum of four single and two double teams. If more than this check in, there will be a playoff before November 14.

Entry forms may be obtained from Mr. Taylor. All entries must be turned in to him before November 14.

TALENT CONTEST

If you have a talent or act, there is a place for you in the Talent Contest which the 12th Naval District is sponsoring for Naval personnel.

The semi-finals and finals of the contest will be staged at the Rodman Center Theatre, at Mare Island Naval Shipyard, on November 28 and 29.

This should be a lot of fun, so if you sing, play an instrument, dance, or have any kind of act, register with Ray Taylor right away. Wives—now is your chance to act as talent scouts!

All acts will be judged on showmanship, originality, performance, and audience response. Each of these factors will be awarded up to 10 points, with 40 points possible. Trophies will be awarded for 1st and 2nd place winners.

BOWLING NEWS

WEDNESDAY NIGHT BOWLING LEAGUE

By Fran Fellingham

The Wednesday Night Bowling League has begun for the season with the "Pin Getters" leading the team standings as of October 3.

The officers of the league for this season are: President, Barbara Walden; Vice-President, Fran Fellingham; Secretary, Marge Kowalsky; Treasurer, Betty Griffith.

Jean Naismith has the High Game currently with a score of 177. Marge Kowalsky has High Series with a 460, and Barbara Walden has high average with 143. Maggie Brown made a 6-10-7 split pickup.

Anyone interested in bowling as a substitute, call Marge Kowalsky at FR 5-8697.

TUESDAY NIGHT BOWLING LEAGUE

By Peggy Holt

Our league is going strong now. We've had a lot of split pick-ups. Maggie Gustafson and Ann Hibbs picked up the 5-10, Bev Tucker the 5-7, Gwen McManus the 1-2-10, and Louise Coleman the 5-8-10.

At this writing, the "Four Clovers" were leading the league. Bev Bostwick has high game so far of 211.

THURSDAY MORNING BOWLING LEAGUE

By Marge Johnson

The Navy Wives Morning Bowling League is off and running with the 12 teams in the following positions: 1, Duffers; 2, Wild Ones; 3, Splitters; 4, Dead Eyes; 5, Triple Threats; 6, 3 Misses; 7, Jokers; 8, Left-overs;

9, Riz'n Shiners; 10, Snails; 11, Blooper's; 12, Bop's.

Leading the league with High Game 214 and High Series 544 is Ginny Cooper, while High Series with Handicap honors go to Vina Hafner with 576. Gloria Perry surprised herself by taking High Game with Handicap 230 last Thursday morning.

Interest in the league is maintained by various cash prizes given weekly for such "unusual" occurrences as fouls, low game, of the week, 3-6-10 strikes, and gutter balls. The prizes are alternated in such a way as to give both high bowlers and low bowlers a chance at the money. Jo Dunmire won on October 4 for first foul of the day, and we won't mention the names for low bowler the week before.

Regular bowlers and substitutes are still needed. Anyone interested please call Betty Jo at FR 5-7098.

THANKSGIVING

By James Scales

Thanksgiving is our one national holiday that does not have its origin in politics, war, or the birthday of some long dead national hero.

It is a day that is celebrated throughout our country, not to highlight patriotism, or to bring to mind how lucky we are to have a particular form of government, but to take account of all the blessings that have been ours during the past year.

These blessings include the material things, but they also include the spiritual rights God granted to all mankind. The blessings of the senses, of love and the ability to create. The blessing of the knowledge that we are the masters of all the earth's creatures and the only creature endowed with an immortal soul by our Creator.

It is doubted that our forefathers who inaugurated this holiday at Plymouth so long ago realized that they were beginning a custom that has lasted 200 years and has come to be our most selfless holiday . . . Thanksgiving.
